Cohorts 2026/27 and subsequent years

Each elective course lasts 72 hours, corresponding to 9 ECTS credits. By the end of the degree program in Food Tech for Ecological Transition (FTET), students must have earned a total of 18 ECTS credits. Starting from the second year, students are strictly required to enroll in 1 elective course for the current academic year by completing their Study Plan by 31 October. If the Study Plan is not updated by that date, the Degree Program Coordinator may assign the most appropriate elective course(s) to the student.

At the beginning of the academic year, course outlines for each elective will be available on the student portal. Students are strongly encouraged to read the prospectus outlines carefully.

Each elective course admits a maximum of 30 students, except where otherwise expressly stated in the prospectus. Enrollment is open on a first-come, first-served basis until all places are filled.

Elective courses with fewer than 8 enrolled students will not be initiated. Students enrolled in courses that are not activated will be informed and must register for activated courses with available places.

Elective courses are scheduled exclusively in the second semester of each academic year.

AUDTING STUDENTS

Students are allowed to attend lectures for elective courses NOT INCLUDED in their Study Plan (subject to prior authorization from the course instructor), provided that:

- they are taken in addition to those already included for the academic year of attendance;
- they do not overlap with classes of the course included in the Study Plan.

PLEASE NOTE: Students are required to take exams only for the courses in which they are enrolled. This option is not available to auding students.
