

Regulations for Optional Courses Undergraduate Degree Program in Food Sciences and Cultures

2024/25 and subsequent cohorts

Each optional course lasts 24 hours and corresponds to three credits.

Students must enroll in two optional courses by completing their Study Plan before October 31.

Every year, each student must take two optional courses (for the current year). At the end of their program, the student will have acquired a total of 18 credits from the optional courses.

Should the Career Plan not be updated by the aforementioned date, the Degree Convenor may officially assign the elective courses deemed most appropriate to the student.

Each optional course has a maximum of 30 students (unless specifically stated otherwise in the course description). Courses can be freely enrolled in until full.

At the start of the academic year, descriptions for each course will be available on the student portal. Students should carefully read the course descriptions, paying particular attention to the language in which the classes will be held.

Optional courses with less than 8 students enrolled will be cancelled. The secretary will send the list of active courses. Students enrolled in cancelled courses should contact the secretary and enroll in one of the active courses with places remaining.

Optional courses are programmed only for the second semester of each academic year.

AUDITORS (valid from the 2019/2020 cohort)

Students can attend classes in optional courses NOT INCLUDED in their Study Plan, following authorization from the coordinating lecturer, on the condition that:

- the course is in addition to those in which the student has already enrolled for that academic year.
- there are no scheduling conflicts with the classes for courses included in their Study Plan.

NB

Students can take exams only for the courses in which they are enrolled. Auditors cannot take the exams.
